Professor of Chemistry
California State University Northridge

Please join us for a Professional Education event and book presentation by Professor Gagik Melikyan

Co-sponsored by:
The Marilyn Magaram Center at Cal State University Northridge
& Mission Community Hospital

Debunking Common Myths:

Compelling evidence that polyphenolic antioxidants, foods, supplements, cosmetics and natural compounds can be harmful to the human body will be presented. The Author questions the current paradigm of choosing food items and arms the general public with critical knowledge that will allow them to make educated choices when it comes to exposing their bodies to harmful chemical compounds.
