STORIES OF RACIAL HEALING

by Phyllis A. Unterschuetz and Eugene F. Unterschuetz

A white couple's personal account of a journey that pulled them out of their comfortable notions about race and into the lives of people of African descent, where they faced their greatest challenge - their own racial conditioning.

One cannot walk away from this book and count it as just another interesting read on race relations. - Excerpted from the Foreword by Dr. Richard Thomas, professor, MSU
