The Last Appeal • Men on Death Row

The Last Appeal presents the powerful story of Titus Freeman, who finds himself sentenced to death row after a fatal altercation with a local store owner, Ivan Parks, the husband of famous pianist, Trisha Parks. Suddenly, Titus is placed with inmates who are waiting for their own execution date. He resides with Men such as Kurtis, a hostile "skin head" who is always looking for a fight . . . Clayton, a man of faith who role models true change to other inmates . . . Doc, an older gentleman who has fallen victim to post traumatic stress. Doc has not spoken a single word in 8 years even to his beloved daughter, Carrie. Randy, a happily married atheist who happens to be the only innocent man on death row. Randy was falsely accused with witnesses unwilling to testify. These 5 characters convey an amazing story of struggle, forgiveness, redemption and faith. The story is gripping. The unexpected humor is hilarious.
