

FERIAL MASRY and the VENTURA COUNTY SUPPORTERS of presents . . .

celebrating  years of
GLOBAL EXCHANGE

MEENA NANJI

Showing and speaking about her documentary film

“VIEW FROM A GRAIN OF SAND”

Wednesday, August 27, 2008, 7:00PM to 8:30PM

Thousand Oaks Library
1401 East Janns Road
Thousand Oaks, CA

Meena Nanji is an award winning filmmaker and freelance writer. Her documentary “View from a Grain of sand” is a journey through the last 30 years of Afghanistan’s history as lived by three Afghan women. A doctor, a teacher and a social worker each telling how their lives were affected by wars and different regimes.

View from A Grain of Sand, Dir Meena Nanji, US 2006

Despite the catastrophe around them, these women continue to survive and help others. This program is the third in a series on Afghanistan, Iran and Kurdistan. In September, photojournalist, author and filmmaker Kevin McKiernan will speak about his experienced in Kurdistan. The program is free and open to the public. Sponsored by Global Exchange Ventura County Supporters (805)375- 9939 or GlobalExchangeVCS@yahoo.com www.globalexchangeventuracountysupporters.org and Web site:
www.globalexchange.org

The Global Exchange Ventura County Supports is a group of people- a local community of conscience-dedicated to providing monthly public forums, sporting and work with other local organizations committed to social and economic justice, human rights and ecological sustainability, since 2003. Global Exchange is headquartered in San Francisco, is an international human rights organization dedicated to promoting environmental, political and social justice since 1988, Global exchange has increased the U.S. public’s global awareness while building partnerships worldwide.