

and Friends

presents

A food forum: Eat, Drink & be wary . . .

Who's growing our food? What's in it? Why it isn't safe! Do yourself a favor and come find out!

Thursday, November 19, 2009

Doors open at 6:30PM; Meeting 7:00PM to 9:00PM

Featuring . . . Jules Dervaes, Katherine Green, Nicole Johnson

Jules Dervaes, Founder, Path to Freedom, a family-operated, viable urban homestead project established in 2001 to promote a simpler and more fulfilling lifestyle, sowing a "homegrown revolution" against the corporate powers that control the food supply into a year round organic garden. Visit: PathtoFreedom.com, award-winning documentary short, Homegrown Revolution

Katherine Green, TV writer, producer. Produced DVD after researching nutritionism, gmo crops, labeling laws, silenced scientists-- and how Monsanto fits into the picture.

Nicole Johnson is a researcher, writer and activist living in Ventura County. Written critical articles on sustainability, production of wholesome food, agribusiness and the globalized food supply chain, industrial food supply on health, safe drinking water issues, new food and water safety legislation emphasizing clean, safe, and toxin-free.

Q & A will follow after the presentations.

Venice Center for Peace with Justice and The Arts

2210 Lincoln Blvd, corner of Victoria Ave, one block N of Venice Blvd., Venice CA 90291

- Free street and lot parking. Cost $5.00 suggested donation to help defray cost of event.

No one turned away for lack of funds.

VISIT & RSVP: <http://my.barackobama.com/page/event/detail/gpcmkz>