

LAUSD is hiring Electricians, please spread the word. Thanks.

The Los Angeles Unified School District would like to announce the recruitment for Electrician. There are currently several vacancies. Apply online today at www.lausdjobs.org <<http://www.lausdjobs.org/>>

The Electrician will have completed a four or five year State of California recognized Electrical Apprenticeship program and have worked as a Journeyman Electrician in commercial, industrial, or institutional installations and construction. In addition to broad technical skills and good working knowledge of the electrical trade, the ideal candidate will specifically be skilled in working with low voltage controls and various trade related electronic systems and equipment.
